Objectives: The objective of the course is to foster exchanges on foundational, clinical-ethical and organizational-ethical approaches to dementia care practices.

Format: This course starts from an interdisciplinary perspective (incorporating philosophy, theology, medicine, nursing, as well as normative and empirical ethics). During the course, national and international experts will give presentations on various ethical topics in the domain of dementia care.

Participants: The course is of interest to participants from diverse professional backgrounds, such as medicine, nursing, psychology, social work, health care administration, philosophy and theology, and to PhD students undertaking courses of study in these areas. The language of instruction will be English.

Price: The course fee will be € 695 if you register and pay as a participant before May 16th 2016, € 795 for registration and payment from May 16th 2016 onwards. This fee includes tuition and course materials, as well as refreshments, three lunches, and a dinner. Detailed information on registration and payment can be found at our website www.cbmer.be under Summer Course.
